

Wittgenstein (xtianthe890). Co-taught by Stanley Hauerwas (308 Gray, 919-660-3420, hauerwass@gmail.com) and Paul J. Griffiths (056 Langford, 312-282-6155, pgriffit@gmail.com) at Duke Divinity School in the spring semester of 2018. Class meets 2:30-5pm on Wednesday in <room tbd>.

This seminar treats the principal works of the later Wittgenstein, with an eye to their relevance for those engaged in Christian theology. If you're taking this course for credit, you'll be expected to write something; you should consult about this with Stanley Hauerwas or Paul Griffiths. Everyone should be prepared to have something thoughtful to say in class about the reading for the week, which should be done before the date on which it's to be discussed.

Texts & schedule: page-numbers, given in parentheses are to the editions mentioned below. This week-by-week schedule may be adjusted as need arises.

1. <17 Jan> PI, remarks 1-64 (pp. 5-35)
2. <24 Jan> PI, remarks 65-115 (pp. 35-53)
3. <31 Jan> PI, remarks 116-197 (pp. 53-86)
4. <7 Feb> PI, remarks 198-242 (pp. 86-95)
5. <14 Feb> PI, remarks 243-315 (pp. 95-111)
6. <21 Feb> PI, remarks 316-384 (pp. 111-125)
7. <28 Feb> Culture & Value, remarks through 1940 (pp. 1-39)
8. <7 Mar> Culture & Value, remarks through 1951 (pp. 39-87)
9. <14 Mar>: no class: spring break
10. <21 Mar> On Certainty, remarks 1-299 (pp. 2-38)
11. <28 Mar> On Certainty, remarks 300-676 (pp. 38-90)
12. <4 Apr> Lectures & Conversations, all.
13. <11 Apr> recapitulation & ways forward

Editions recommended

Philosophical Investigations. 4th ed. Wiley-Blackwell. ISBN 9781405159289.

Culture and Value. University of Chicago Press. ISBN 9780685049808.

On Certainty. HarperCollins. ISBN 9780061316869.

Lectures and Conversations on Aesthetics, Psychology, and Religious Belief. U. of California Press.
ISBN 9780520251816.

Background Reading

S. Cavell, Claim of Reason

C. Diamond, Realistic Spirit

R. Eldridge, Leading a Human Life

T. Moi, Revolution of the Ordinary

S. Mulhall, The Great Riddle

S. Mulhall, Wittgenstein's Private Language